Juergen,

Regarding PlayerTour front-end:

- I informed about problems with deliverables from Markus - i.e. what I'm supposed to receive in order to do my work - for well over a year already. Nothing has changed and it's only gotten worse. On this topic, I explained everything in detail already multiple times, so please refer to those communications;

- What is very worrying to me for quite a long time is that (A) nothing was done about those problems, (B) in direct communication with client, you attempted to shift responsibility for "lack of progress" on to me;

- Back in June (2023), I would have been able to start if not for the issues I reported in comments to https://github.com/AmateurPlayerTour/frontend/issues/1 back then – I was not busy with other projects at that time, and PlayerTour was a priority; only subsequently I switched to other projects;

- I also offered alternative of launching the app and then improving it as time goes – as that's exactly how it should have been done since app is ready for close to 6 months already;

- I can offer another alternative: asking UX/UI people I worked with on other projects, including UX/UI person with whom I worked on multiple IT projects since 1999 (https://www.linkedin.com/in/wojtekpiotrowski/), for appraisal / help with UX/UI part on this project; Markus is either unwilling or unable to provide what is required for me to do my work, and this has happened too many times for me to accept this again; I explained everything in detail already multiple times, so please refer to those communications.

- In the summary I sent you on Sunday (13.08) I clearly mentioned I'd prefer not to work on the front-end project until issues I reported multiple times are resolved – now, I would like to emphasize and rephrase this: I cannot continue on the front-end project until issues I reported multiple times over the course of over a year are resolved once and for all;

Regarding other projects:

- we just (21.07.2023) extended contract for another year, for which I am grateful,

- however, I need to make sure there's sufficient amount of projects in the backlog that you need done, because I want to avoid situations like 2-3 days this month already, when having finished with Felix and Gecko GraphQL, I had nothing else to do and neither you nor Mark were present,

- you mentioned several times in such situations I should charge you anyway, but I want to avoid charging you without delivering anything,

- so, now, you assigned me some minor things like the R (https://github.com/geckoprojects-org/org.gecko.emf.utils/issues/15) and CSV (https://github.com/geckoprojects-org/

org.gecko.emf.utils/issues/14) exporter and Gecko issue (https://github.com/geckoprojects-org/org.gecko.graphql/issues/9) – is that all for now ? Because that alone will perhaps keep me busy until end of this month, maybe not even.

Regarding meeting in Jena – I do not know yet, as I have some issues with neck muscles / spine to take care of, so it depends on how well this improves, hopefully I will be able to visit for at least one day, we'll see.

Regards,

It would be great if you could start work on these 3 topics in that order. Please book any time spend on this https://track.toggl.com/854063/projects/194349560/tasks
